

ELECTIVES (24 credits)

Students must take at least one (1) elective course in each science (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Political Theory) for a total of 12 credits.

Note: Introductory level course (with the exception of Fundamentals of Political Science)

The remaining four courses (12 credits) may

Since introductory courses are meant to

Students may use up to two courses cross-listed with other departments toward their elective requirements.

they need to consult with the department and with the Academic Advisement Center to learn of

Political Science Minor

Total Credits: 18

INTRODUCTORY COURSES (6 credits)

Students must take two (2) of the

Course #	Course Name	Credits
POLI 1101	Introduction to American

Political Science Concentrations

,Q DGGLWLRQ WR WKH JHQHUDO 3ROL 6FL 0DMRU WKH GHSDUWLRQ concentration in Political Science. Students may focus on:

- American Politics and Policy
- Comparative Political Studies
- Law and Justice
- ,QWHUQDWLRQDO $ĒDLUV DQG 6HFXULW\ 6WXGLHV

<RXU FRQFHQWUDWLRQ PD\ EH PHQWLRQHG LQ SURIHVVLRQDO L LQ SXUURXU SURIHVVLRQDO DVSLUDWLRQV DV D VLJQDO WR SUR TXDOLILFDWLRQV
7R KDYH D FRQFEP

Courses and Concentrations in Political Science

(sample courses)

America Politics and Policy

- Introduction to American Politics
- American Presidency
-